

BIG BLIMP HOLDS CROWD ALL DAY

SUPERVISORS AGAIN SIDETRACK APPEAL FOR SNOW REMOVAL

SPLENDID IDEA BUT IT "CAN'T BE DONE," THEY DECLARE.

MATTER REFERRED

Proposal Goes to Highway Committee Which Is Solid Against Taking Action.

Admitting that the plan was splendid, but difficult of execution and with the consensus of opinion being that it was impossible, the town council today, after listening to the proposal of the Janesville Chamber of Commerce, as spokesman for the various communities in the county, back of it. Mr. Nelson declared that with an expenditure by the county board of $25,000, equipment could be purchased with which the communities would keep the roads open during the winter, relieving the board of any further responsibility.

Dance Ordinance Introduced.

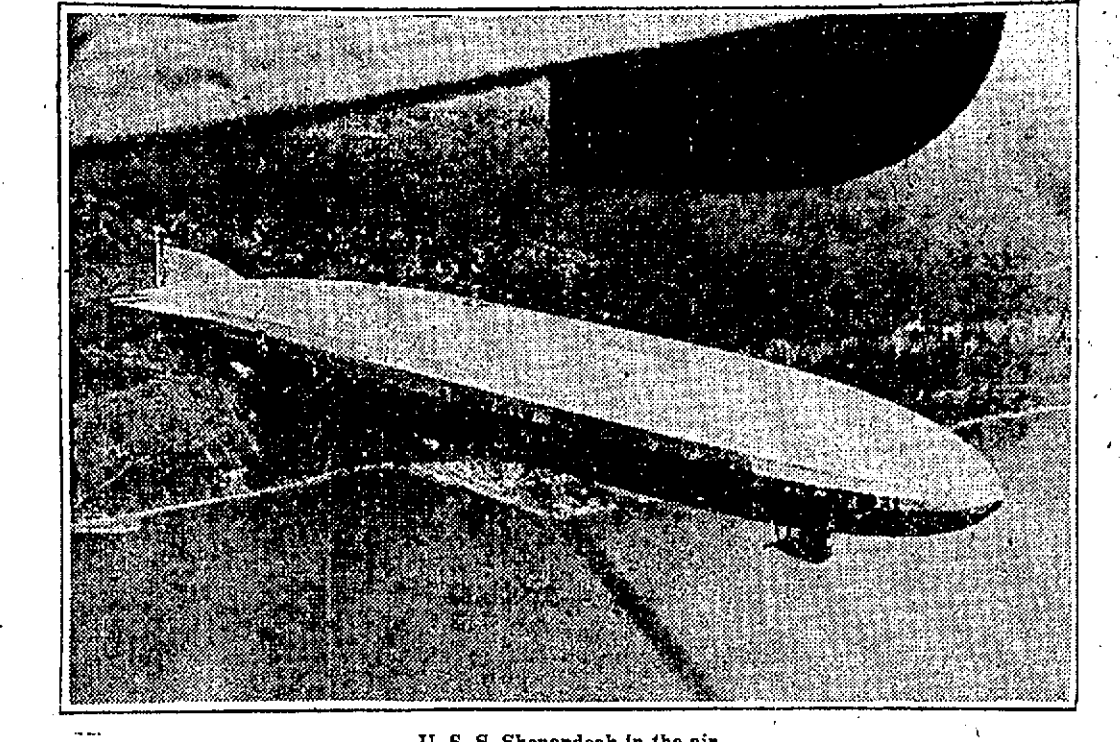

This, together with a few expressions in favor of the county dance ordinance, prepared and introduced by a committee headed by former Chairman W. W. Dalton, Clinton, action on which was deferred until 2 p. m., Thursday, constituted the work done by the board Wednesday afternoon.

Nothing is expected to come of the snow removal problem insofar as the county board is concerned, as all three members of the highway committee, while wanting to see the roads kept open in winter, were skeptical as to machinery being able to do the work.

Mr. Nelson concluded presentation of the plan as outlined in the Gazette Wednesday, members of the board opposed to the county taking action towards snow removal, containing an expenditure, presented their arguments. Those who were in favor of it, if any were present, were silent. Several of the speakers carried their colleagues back to the days of their

$2,500,000 FIRE RUINS HUGE RAIL DOCK AT ASHLAND

Ashland—A fire which, in six hours, caused damage estimated to be $2,500,000 before it was brought under control by firemen of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad here.

The 1,700 foot long dock caught fire on its outer end. Local firemen were called in to assist the Chicago & Northwestern firemen. The Ironwood company came by special train, but the Superior engine-actors arrived through 75 miles of snow drifts in two hours. Bluffs held a crew and apparatus ready for a quick trip, it called.

One hundred and fifty of the 200 pockets on the dock were destroyed, including the main structure. Two other wooden docks beside dock 2 were saved by the firemen. The total value of the three docks was estimated at $7,500,000.

It is reported here that a modern steel structure will replace the burned dock, which was fully insured. The dock was built seven years ago.

The Tacoma has been patrolling the Gulf coast since the outbreak of the Mexican revolt.

U. S. CHAMBER IN NEW PLAN FOR TAX BILL

Washington—While the house was in session, the committee went forward today with its public hearing on proposed reduction in tax rates, a new list of recommendations for an amendment of the revenue act of 1921, which was passed by the chamber, touch on administrative as well as rate provisions of the law and are, broadly, in agreement with the proposals of Secretary Mellon.

They include provision of the normal and surtax rates on individual incomes to an extent equal in its results to revenues to a large part of the surplus anticipated at the end of the fiscal year, a "reasonable" differentiation between earned income and other income, and repeal of war excess taxes confined to particular businesses.

Special consideration was given to the tax on future trading on produce markets. Philip Campbell, Chicago Board of Trade, said the tax was driving the Chicago grain market out of existence and constituted eventually a sales tax on farm products.

Radio Heard 4,600 Feet in Mine Shaft

Wallace, Ida.—Forty-six hundred feet below the surface of the ground, a faint radio signal was heard by mining men and others who descended into the mine yesterday with receiving equipment.

The experiment was made to determine the practicability of radio in the work.

UP TO WOOD, IS DECISION

Madison—The house committee, in dismissing the mandamus proceedings brought by the democratic party leaders to compel Governor Wood to call a special session to reveal details of the expenditures of the $500,000 annual independence fund, says that whether or not such an inspection should be granted lies entirely within the discretion of the governor-general. Figures $3,000,000 Spent Here Yearly for Luxuries

Basing his calculations on a recent treasury department report, Supl. F. O. Holt, figures the total cost of luxuries purchased in this city annually amounted to $3,000,000. The figures were compiled as a part of the Thrift week campaign, which opened Thursday, Benjamin Franklin's birthday, and will continue until Wednesday. It is being fostered here by the Y. M. C. A. $8,000,000 for Food Luxuries.

Mr. Holt divides expenses for luxuries into 11 classes, on the basis of the report, and while these may be entirely correct for this city, which made up only a small part of the territory in which statistics were collected, it is thought to be fairly accurate.

Luxurious food costs each person $50 a year or $900,000 for the city. According to the table, luxurious services and pleasure resorts, including races and joy rides, make up the second largest items, each item costing $30 a year, per capita, or $2,700,000.

Churchill Asked to Re-enter Arena

London.—The country waited today the opening of the final scene in the life of the Baldwin government—the introduction in the house of commons of labor's "no confidence" motion.

Notwithstanding the belief that the overthrow of the ministry is inevitable, conservative whips are doing their utmost to keep the party at full strength throughout the debate on the amendment, especially for next Monday's crucial vote. The other parties also are eagerly whipping their followers and there is every indication of a full attendance at the night session of Jan. 21, at which the vote on the no confidence resolution probably will be taken.

The latest effort of the opponents of a laborite government was an appeal to Winston Churchill, leader of the opposition, to take the lead against Ramsay MacDonald and his followers.

The Daily Mail prints prominently an anonymous letter asking Mr. Churchill, "at the moment of peculiar and unprecedented peril for the country," to re-enter the arena as "a leader around whom the champions of constitutional government could rally."

SNOW AND SUDDEN GOLD PLAY HAVOC WITH HIGHWAYS

CRUSTED DRIFTS STOP TRAFFIC ALONG MANY ROADS.

MAIL IS HINDERED

Many Bus Lines Tied Up As Tracks Fill in; Some Trains Are Late.

A sudden stop in temperature of 30 degrees to anywhere from 30 to 35 below in Janesville over night has played havoc with the country roads of southern Wisconsin.

The sub-zero wave, third of the winter, disrupted some train schedules, nipped off several telephone lines and formed a glazy crust on the eight inches of snow that made highways almost impossible to traverse.

An idea of the condition of roads is shown by the fact that at 2:30 p. m., Thursday, none of the eight rural mail carriers working out of the Janesville office had returned from their route. On Tuesday, these men did not get back until dark, whereas they should be here at 11 a. m. and some of them did not complete delivery.

Drifts Are High

Drifts run from three to four feet deep in cuts in every section, particularly east of Janesville. To get through on many roads is necessary to take the fields. On the road to Delavan, autos were able to go as far as Emerald Grove, but from there to Delavan it is almost impossible. The Clinton-Delavan road is expected to be good for through traffic by Thursday night.

Delavan, Clinton and Elkhorn, reports that the roads are in a bad way, with two buses stuck half-way between since Wednesday. Thursday morning, no one passed on the road from Delavan to Clinton, but some went through the fields.

Though it has been hard going, traffic has managed to ek out its way along the route. Port Madison and Koshkonong and Milton, Mo., has been heard of that was able to make the trip from there to Milton. Attempts to make the trip were being made during the day.

240 CONVICTIONS IN CRIMINAL CASES

50 Percent of Defendants in Prohibition Cases Are Convicted.

Of a total of 494 misdemeanor and felony cases begun by the state in Rock county criminal court here during 1923 before Judge J. J. Maxfield, 434 were disposed of and 60 remained pending at the end of the year, according to a special report just prepared for the state by the local court. Of the 60 cases remaining undispensed of, 31 are felonies and 29 are misdemeanors. Another interesting part of the state report is that only one person—Morris Amner, forger—was committed to a state penal institution during the year. He went to Waupun. This is a most unusual record as in the past there have always been several commitments to Waupun and a larger number to the reformatory at Green Bay.

58 Prohibition Cases
The number sentenced to county jail is listed as 18; number fined, 138; number committed to jail for non-payment of fines, 48; number both fined and sentenced to jail, 5; number placed on probation, 6; number otherwise disposed of, 218; total, 434.

Of the fines assessed, 23 were unable to pay $50 or less; 11 could not pay $50 to $100; and five could not pay over $100; so were committed to jail.
There were 58 cases for violation of prohibition laws and 23 convictions were obtained in these cases. Of 21 charged with abandonment and non-support, five were convicted. Of five up for burglary, four were convicted and there were the same number of convictions out of 23 larceny cases. A total of 384 prosecutions were commenced during the year and 48 were pending from 1922.

Eight Jury Acquittals
Of 14 jury cases in which verdicts were returned, eight were for acquittal and six were for conviction, the report shows. The court made 12 convictions upon trial and 222 upon plea of guilty, making a total of 234 convictions during the year. Other records in regard to disposition of criminal cases are listed as: Acquittals or dismissals by the court, 31; prosecutions in which nolle prosequi was entered, 6; prosecutions otherwise disposed of, 39; total number of cases of non-conviction, 154.

Jvenile Cases Total 29 and 135 Search Warrants Issued, the Report Discloses.

SEWER AND WATER BONDS READY FOR SALE IN FEBRUARY

Preparing for the issuance of sewer and water main bonds early in February, the department of public works announced Thursday that property owners on streets where these improvements were made last year and who did not elect to pay cash, still have 15 days in which to pay in under the cash plan. Otherwise bonds will be issued to mature in equal amounts annually over a period of five years, a lien against the property benefited. The payment plan is similar to that proposed for the 1924 paving program except that the time period is but half as long. The engineering department will be glad to give information about the sewer and water payments to anyone not clear as to what the requirements are.

Salvi, Renowned Harpist, to Play in City, Jan. 21

Another triumph has been scored by the Apollo club in the booking of Alberto Salvi, acclaimed the world's greatest concert harpist, for a recital in the high school auditorium here Monday, Jan. 21, at 8 p. m. Salvi comes here under the management of the Metropolitan Musical Bureau and under the personal direction of Hugh H. Newsum, Acoustic Hall, New York city.

Salvi was born in Venice, Italy, in 1893, the son of an Italian harp maker of that city. He took his first lessons on a miniature harp which his father made especially for him even before he began his school days.

A wonder, winner of the Royal Scholarship prize, and thus receiving all his training at the expense of the Italian government, he is hailed today as the greatest concert harpist the world has ever produced. He graduated with the highest honors, three years ahead of his class, and has achieved fame as a composer and director.

BANKS ARE ASKED TO BOOST NEW PLAN FOR RELIEF OF GERMANY

Ten dollars in American money will furnish 110 pounds of basic foodstuffs for any family in Germany, says the American committee for relief of German children in a circular letter received by all four Janesville banks. The request is made in the bank's Maj. Gen. Henry T. Allen, chairman of the commission, that the proposition be brought to the attention of individuals in this country who may wish to be of service to friends or relatives in Germany.

Maj. Allen promises that any profits accruing from the operation of this service will be turned over to the American Friends Service committee.

Can't Be Done—Lathers.

The one and only problem in snow removal is the drifts, Supervisor W. J. Lathers, Turtle, said and asserted that the board of supervisors should not do but believe machinery such as Mr. Nelson suggested using would be feasible in keeping open some drifts he had seen in Rock county.

The board was advised by Supervisor C. W. Merriam, Beloit, that snow was the natural way of getting around in the winter time and he for one didn't want to see the county attempting to counteract the action of the elements. Mr. Merriam was strongly of the opinion that "we should have more snow."

OPPOSITION BASED ON SURTAX SLICE

Action Favors Rich, Is Cry of Irreconcilables in Congress.

By DAVID LAWRENCE Copyright 1923, by Janesville Daily Gazette.

Washington—Opposition to the Mellon plan for tax revision has confined itself almost entirely to the question of surtaxes. The cry that the rich are being favored arises out of the proposal to reduce surtaxes. The answer that the business conditions will improve is based on a belief in the productivity of lower surtax rates.

The truth about new surtax rates will probably never be learned until the country actually tries out an amended schedule. Senator Coughlin of Michigan, for instance, wants to know why surtaxes should be reduced when business is at a low ebb now. The split in the republican ranks over the schedule of surtaxes by Mr. Mellon grows out of a fear that to reduce the surtaxes will open members to attack from demagogues who will say the action favors the rich. Anything that helps the rich will never get through congress. The big question is whether the new surtax rates help the rich alone. If it helps the poor too, by reducing rents and making it easier to build homes, then it will gain friends.

Holding Hearings

But who knows? The ways and means committee is beginning hearings. Secretary Mellon undoubtedly will testify. He interprets past experience and analyzes tendencies based upon statistics. He has shown already that the government is steadily losing revenue because the higher surtax rates are driving capital into tax exempt securities. Admitting that to be a tendency, he must show how the relief the country needs will be afforded under a scale of 1 percent to 25 percent on surtaxes instead of a higher limit at 44 percent as the democrats propose, or 25 percent as those who would compromise are suggesting. The interesting thing is that the predominant opinion is in favor of abandoning the present high limit of 50 percent, which with the normal taxes amounts to 58 percent of all incomes above $200,000. The democratic schedule of 44 percent plus the normal taxes makes the rate about 50 percent.

Mr. Mellon's whole argument is based on the theory that it doesn't make much difference what the opinion may be of the political value of a 25 or a 44 percent limit, the important fact to determine is whether the new schedule of surtaxes will get the needed revenue. His experts are at work on the various suggestions and before long some treasury estimates will be made public showing the probable sums that will be raised from a 41 per cent surtax and even a 55 per cent rate.

There unquestionably has been some misunderstanding of the relationship of surtaxes to business. The business doesn't contend that business is bad or that it is going to get bad. It simply argues that business today would be even more better if not artificially restrained by high surtaxes and that when business is booming everybody gets more out of the world in general. They say that business at present is satisfactory to everybody to argue that everybody is willing to forego an increase in income. Ambition and human desires have no limit and it is not the proposed surtax rates at present political. The talk in the congres is only political effects. The treasury is arguing the case on economic grounds today. Just as Secretary Houston and Secretary Glass, both democrats, presented their recommendations for the repeal of excess profits and other unrelenting taxes because of economic considerations.

The treasury has looked at it from the beginning from the latter viewpoint. Congress is concerned with the battle between politics and economics will be on in earnest with the opportunity for misrepresentation and confusion growing greater every day as the curious economists make their theories square with political impulses.

Janesville Printer Finds Daughter on Stage After Lapse of Twenty-Five Years

A strange page out of life. Charles H. Hanson, Minneapolis, who worked for several years on the Janesville Recorder and the Gazette, was attracted to a photograph of a lovely young actress published in the retrospective section of the paper on which he was working in the biggest of the Twin Cities. Hanson completed the identification by going to the stage production of "Up She Goes," playing in Minneapolis.

An actress danced out on the stage, sang, and took a leading part in the production. The identification was complete. The actress was Hanson's daughter, whom he had not seen since baby-hood. Her theatrical name was Marjorie Sweet.

Hanson married here. Hanson married Florence Shaw in Janesville on Dec. 4, 1892. Her parents resided in Janesville and Florence had been on the stage since childhood. She had played parts with Fanny Davenport. After the marriage the couple moved to St. Paul and lived for a year and then returned to Janesville, where Hanson worked for about three years as a printer. Marjorie Mac was born June 23, 1891. The couple was very happy. Later, despite his pleading, Hanson's wife returned to the stage. The life of the spotlight was stronger than the home-fires. The wife first left the baby girl with Hanson's sister and then with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Shaw, in Janesville. The wife joined the George D. Sweet company and later took the baby with her. There was a separation and divorce in 1898. The last time Hanson saw his daughter was in April, 1903.

After 25 Years.

The mother later married George D. Sweet, a theatrical producer and the daughter has always carried the belief Sweet was her father. Although the daughter was but four years old when Hanson last saw her and is now 23, he recognized her first by the newspaper photograph and then on the stage.

Because she thought George D. Sweet was her father, the actress refused at first to believe Hanson was her true parent. Marriage certificates, birth records, newspaper clippings, pictures were shown by the father to his daughter, before she could be convinced that Sweet was not her parent.

"When I saw the photograph I knew that the photo was of my daughter," reports Hanson. "It was my Marjorie. I knew her in an instant. I knew that her mother had married again and I knew her new name; but I did not know what name our daughter used. She has been on the stage since babyhood, just as her mother before her."

Compositors in the Janesville Gazette remember Hanson and recalled his marriage to Florence Shaw and later their separation.

Story of a $3,000,000.00 Business Built In Nine Years

FRANKLY, this advertisement was suggested by the different members of our organization. "Tell the people of our city more about our business," they said; therefore, because it is always interesting to know the reasons for a successful business, we are glad to talk to you and tell you the reasons for our remarkable growth from a small business nine years ago to the seventeen stores today doing a business that runs into several millions.

Business Owned by 900 People

A LARGE business gives opportunity for many individuals to participate in the profits. Over nine hundred stockholders own A. Leath & Co., and receive their share of the profits every six months.

A board of directors and officers manage the business, and these men are accountable to the stockholders for the proper management of the business.

A Letter from the President

To enjoy your work is a start toward success—and I don't think there is another business where we all so thoroughly love our work.

Our whole aim is to give our customers a service in assisting them to arrange a better furnished, more comfy home.

These efforts have been appreciated. This is evidenced by the fact that A. Leath & Co.'s business has grown from a small one a few years ago to one of several millions in 1923.

In seventeen cities where Leath Furniture is sold, and the surrounding territory which embraces more than a million people, they are daily coming to know us and I believe like us better and better.

Our aim and ambition is to please and satisfy you in every way.

ARTHUR LEATH
President A. Leath & Co.

Trainloads of Furniture

YOU are not interested in knowing how many trainloads was required to supply the Leath stores, in addition to the furniture we manufacture ourselves—but it is worthwhile knowing that a firm capable of buying in these large quantities can positively buy for less.

Many times we are able to get exclusive designs. We are told many, many times that our furniture is the most beautiful shown.

More Than 8000 Rugs

ONLY a few firms can buy 8000 rugs, and those who do so can get rock bottom prices. Here in our large stocks you'll usually find a good assortment. The best rugs in the land are here, and the prices of course will be what you might expect in a store with a buying power as large as ours.

Linoleums in printed and inlaid qualities, and the best of felt base waterproof floor coverings, also at lowest prices.

85% of Employees are Stockholders

THE DAY of good salaries has come to stay. In addition to a good salary an ambitious man wants an opportunity to become a part of the business he is connected with.

You'll find in our store an organization that will give you every service. Not only the salesman who waits on you—but everyone that handles your order takes an interest in service. The men who deliver your furniture will do their level best to place it in your home in perfect condition.

They are all interested in pleasing you because nearly all have their savings invested in the business and are a part of it.

Our Great February Event

FOR three months our buyers have been securing special concessions from manufacturers from whom we buy so much—these concessions to make our February event outstanding.

Without exaggeration we believe we have secured the best Furniture and Rug values we have ever offered.

IN fact, if everybody actually knew how really wonderful these values were we would not sell any furniture in March or April, because you would buy it all during our Furniture February.

We have bought many, many carloads and we believe we will have enough. Further account of the February event tomorrow.
